

President James L. Catanzaro

Hello, I'm Jim Catanzaro, President of Chattanooga State. Welcome to one of America's premiere community colleges; dynamic, innovative, friendly, and surely the cutting edge! This is what makes Chattanooga State so special. We are committed to students' success. To your success! We offer the widest array of health care programs in Tennessee. And we are strong in business, engineering technology, science, behavioral sciences, certainly the arts, and the full range of technology. You can prepare for more careers through Chattanooga State than any college in our region. And ALL of our technology center students receive scholarships, and nearly half of all others receive financial aid. Younger students can enroll in our middle college high school, which is a national model for educating creative high school students. We do it all at Chattanooga State and we do it with distinction. Now follow your favorite Joe to take the next step in transforming your life.
